

Milwaukie Heating & Cooling
Originally Established in 1957

INTEGRITY... As a third generation family owned business, originally established in 1957; Milwaukie Heating & Cooling is proud of its community heritage. With a commitment to integrity in business; owners Terry and Dennis will not take jobs that cannot be done to the high standards set through decades of service and thousands of satisfied home owners.

COMMITMENT... The majority of our business is referral based for a reason. Our commitment to quality, and customer service is virtually unmatched in the heating business today. So many companies just want to get in get it done and get your money. We are committed to providing the best service you have ever experienced.

QUALITY... The quality and craftsmanship of our highly trained installers and service technicians is extremely rare. Our installations are clean and properly designed. The quality and performance of our systems is obvious just looking at one of our installations.
